650,000 Steel Workers Set to Strike At Midnight

PICKETING TO MULTIPLY PHONE SERVICE JAMS, UNION PREDICTS

NO PROGRESS MADE TOWARD A SETTLEMENT

New York, April 8—(P)—Striking CIO Communications Workers are causing few delays to telephone service across the nation, but a union official says picketing will multiply the jams starting tomorrow.

Coupled with a Western Union strike, now in its sixth day, an effective stoppage of telephone service would leave air-mail as the nation's chief means of relatively quick, long distance communication.

A clearing of the clouded communications picture was not an immediate prospect. Federal mediators were working on both the telephone and telegraph disputes, but their efforts were fruitless.

The unique situation that caught the telephone and telegraph services simultaneously stems from union demands for wage increases, but the strikes are not related.

Some 67,000 CIO Communications Workers of America (CWA) went on strike yesterday in the dispute against American Telephone and Telegraph Company systems in four states and the Western Electric Company in 43 states. Nationwide picketing is scheduled to start tomorrow.

In the Western Union walkout, about 30,000 members of the AFL Commercial Telegraphers' Union (CTU) have been out since last Thursday.

Western Union claims it has restored service between 82 key cities. But the CTU says it has "the country sewed up" outside of New York, where an independent union represents employees.

The full impact of the telephone strike was not immediately felt. The CIO strikers posted few pickets at telephone exchanges, and in the four states where operators left their jobs supervisory personnel took over.

Sixty to 80 per cent of the nation's phones are on automatic dial systems, so the strike affected (Turn to Page Nine)

Gambler Costello Fined $5,000 And Sentenced to Jail

New York, April 8—(P)—Gambler Frank Costello was fined $5,000 and sentenced to 18 months in prison today for refusing to testify before the senate crime investigating committee.

Sentence was pronounced by Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan who denied Costello's last-minute effort to obtain a mistrial.

The sentence would be served in a federal prison.

It would be the first time Costello, with a long career as a racket boss, has served time behind the bars since 1915, when he spent 10 months in jail for carrying a gun.

The punishment handed to Costello included four terms of one year each, to run concurrently. The two sets of sentences are to run consecutively.

Costello, convicted last Friday on 10 counts of contempt of the senate, could have received a maximum of 10 years in prison and $10,000 in fines.

The big time gambler, quietly dressed in gray, stood with his arms folded, his head cocked slightly to one side, as sentence was pronounced.

Immediately after the sentencing Costello's attorney, Kenneth M. Spence, announced he would appeal. He said he also would ask bail for the big time gambler pending the appeal.

KILLED BY TRACTOR
Elms, N. Y., April 8—(P)—Stephen R. Bauer, 25, an employee of an Emporium, Pa., concern which had built a gas pipe line near here, was killed yesterday in a tractor accident. He was driving the machine when it went out of control and turned over on him. Police reported Bauer had been living in nearby Aurora.

Over 2,000 Eggs To Be Placed in Park For American Legion Hunt on Saturday

Warren youngsters in the five to eleven year old bracket will be out en masse, Saturday, at Crescent Park, for the annual Easter egg hunt of Cornplanter Post 135, American Legion.

Between 2,200 and 2,400 eggs are to be placed in the park before the event, which is scheduled for 2 p. m. Saturday, and about 500 of these eggs will carry an attached notation which will entitle the finder to a prize.

The park will be roped off into four sections for the various age groups of from five to six, seven to eight, nine to ten, and ten to eleven. Members of Chief Cornplanter Post will be assisted by Chief of Police Mike Evan and members of the Warren Borough police department in handling the large crowd expected.

It will be remembered that last year, through a misunderstanding, the egg searchers "jumped the gun" and the big event was actually over before it was time to start. Every effort is to be made this year to avoid a recurrence, and Lewis' sound truck will be on hand to assist.

Commander Louis Vizza said today that he hopes for a large turn-out of Legion members at the Legion Home at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday to make up a work detail for boiling and coloring the eggs and attaching the prize notations.

BANKERS SECURE BAIL
Pittsburgh, April 8—(P)—Three men charged with misapplication of bank funds are free today in $10,000 bond each. They are Mario M. Dicio, his brother, Frank, and a brother-in-law, Mario Branciforte, all of Canonsburg.

A federal grand jury indicted the trio along with six others in connection with the misapplication of $78,100 in funds at the First National Bank of Cecil, Washington county.

Retired Presbyterian Minister Gives An Interesting Talk at Holy Week Service

"What we need today is to get above our little concerns and see all of our problems against the background of the sweep of the infinite purpose," Dr. A. B. McCormick told his congregation today at the noon-day Holy Week service in First Evangelical United Brethren church.

The retired Presbyterian minister, speaking at the second of four community services arranged by the Warren County Ministerial Association, had for his topic "The Cross—Its Lesson of Love," based on Romans 5:8.

"The lesson we most need to learn when life has been too hard, our burdens too heavy, the world unkind, or our sins too much for us, is that God cares," he continued. "Calvary is the assurance (Turn to Page Nine)

GRACE SCORES ATTITUDE OF UNION CHIEFS

New York, April 8—(P)—E. G. Grace, chairman of Bethlehem Steel Corp., said today government seizure of the steel industry would be "a drastic remedy which congress has rejected and for which there is no statutory or constitutional warrant or authority."

In a statement issued here, the head of the nation's second largest steel producer said the CIO Steel workers Union by its actions seeks to convert the proceedings before the Wage Stabilization Board into compulsory arbitration.

"Now, we hear that the administration contemplates seizing the steel industry to enforce the 'recommendations' which were supposed not to have been binding on the parties," he said.

Grace's statement was to be read to the company's annual stockholder meeting today at Wilmington, Del. He remained in New York because of the labor crisis.

"The administration has not as yet indicated an intention to employ the sole remedy which congress has expressly provided for heading off a national strike—namely, an injunction under the Taft-Hartley law," he said.

President Truman, under Taft-Hartley procedure, could seek a court order delaying the strike 80 days.

"A halt in steel production is a profoundly serious matter," Grace said. "But capitulation to the union demands under the circumstances by which we were confronted would have been even more dangerous to the industry and to the nation."

He called on the Steelworkers' leadership and the union membership to "think their position through again," saying that no one group "should take advantage of an emergency situation to advance its short range interests at the expense of all other groups."

Proof Demanded In Morris Accusation About McGranery

Washington, April 8—(P)—Newbold Morris' charge that James P. McGranery, attorney-general designate, "is a real whitewasher" drew swift demands in congress today, that he tell under oath the basis for his words.

McGranery's hotly-disputed nomination is before the senate judiciary committee, which has scheduled a full hearing in about two weeks.

Committee members said this would provide Morris an opportunity to support the whitewasher accusation if he can. Morris' statement was made in an interview yesterday in New York, where he returned after being fired as the administration's corruption investigator.

"I'd be very much interested to know what he has to back this up," said Chairman McCarran (D-Nev.). "I don't think, personally, that he always knows what he's talking about."

Morris wrangled bitterly with congress before Attorney General McGranery fired him last Thursday, four hours before McGranery himself was axed by President Truman. The dispute revolved around Morris' attempt to look into the private affairs of McGranery and other high administration officials.

Morris, as cleanup man, was a special assistant to McGranery.

McGranery stepped out of his job officially yesterday with a smiling farewell to a gathering of more than 2,000 Justice Department employees. He wound up by saying, "God bless the Justice Department. God bless the president of the United States."

OPINION TO COME
Arguments occupying more than a half day were heard by Judge Allison D. Wade in Forest county court yesterday as attorneys for Mrs. Robert Taft of Warren, moved for a new trial. Mrs. Taft was convicted by a jury of involuntary manslaughter on February 20, when she was charged with causing the death of C. Curtis Keifer, of Tionesta, in an automobile accident last May. Judge Wade has the case under advisement and will give his opinion soon. If no new trial is granted, Judge Wade will set a new date for sentencing.

POURING LAST CAST—Watching the last cast from the "B" furnace of the U. S. Steel Corp. in Cleveland, a worker stands by as the steel company prepares to bank the furnace in anticipation of a nation-wide steel strike.

First Immediate Heartache for Idle Workers Will Be Lack of Easter Money

Pittsburgh, April 8—(P)—Many a steelworker counted his money today and tried to guess how long it may have to last. The hope of avoiding a national steel strike seemed gone as the midnight deadline ticked closer.

Government officials, meeting with company heads and CIO United Steelworker union leaders, clung to slim hopes. But the men who have been paid by the hour were not so optimistic.

Many of the workers face the stoppage—for work and pay—with little preparation. Business heads already note drops in store sales in areas where steelworkers buy.

In Baltimore, Md., where Bethlehem Steel Corp. operates a big plant, department store managers in the plant area says business is down 50 per cent since the union-company negotiations halted.

Workers have lived in constant hope of a settlement since the first deadlock in negotiations last year. Now there is little hope that plant whistles will blow Wednesday.

The first immediate heartache for many is an Easter morning that will be far from the earlier plans made for tiny tots who wait for the Easter bunny.

At Uniontown, in the heart of the western Pennsylvania steel owned coal mines, workers have already been furloughed. Managers of the company stores said the stores were nearly empty yesterday.

The office of the Pennsylvania Employment Service in Uniontown reported it was overrun with the miners who wanted to sign up for unemployment benefits. They were told to report later at union headquarters.

Planes Reported In Crash Over Texas

Fort Hood, Tex., April 8—(P)—Two F-51 single engine fighter planes were reported to have collided today as 3,150 paratroopers made a mass jump in Exercise Long Horn, big Army-Air Force maneuvers.

The information came from the maneuvers' Joint Public Information Bureau here. Newsmen—and many generals who had counted on seeing the spectacular air drop—were not at the scene. A few hours earlier they had been told the mass jump had been cancelled.

Maneuver headquarters was not able to say immediately whether the planes crashed or managed to stay aloft. Whether there were casualties was not announced.

JOHNSONBURG ROBBERY SUSPECT GIVES BAIL

Pittsburgh, April 8—(P)—Anthony Asti of Johnsonburg, accused in the $7,000 holdup of the First National Bank of Johnsonburg, is free today in $15,000 bond.

Asti posted the bond before U. S. Commissioner Edward Snodgrass. His son, Frank, and two others are still in county jail unable to raise bond.

DISCUSS WRESTLING
The board of directors of the Warren Kiwanis club at a meeting last evening discussed plans for raising money for the Handicapped Children's Fund this summer, among which was a proposal to stage an outdoor professional wrestling program at War Memorial Field. Representatives of the club have been in touch with a promoter in Buffalo, and the progress of negotiations was reported to the meeting.

700 Troops of the 28th Infantry Division, Most of Them From Penn'a, on Way Home

Goeppingen, Germany, April 8—(P)—The 28th Infantry Division announced today that approximately 700 of its troops, most of them from Pennsylvania, are on their way home.

Maj. Gen. Daniel B. Strickler, commanding general, said that the troops left this week for a port of embarkation, presumably Bremerhaven.

He said that "during the ensuing months thousands of officers, warrant officers and enlisted men will leave the division and return to the United States to be separated from the service."

Commerce Dep't Is Reported Ready to Operate Industries In Event Seizure Is Ordered

By The Associated Press
Here's what the steel crisis is all about.

Some 650,000 members of the CIO United Steelworkers are set to quit at midnight tonight when the union's strike deadline extension expires. About 300,000 other union members with fabricating firms are not affected.

About 100 steel companies from coast to coast are to be struck. Most are basic steel producing companies. A few which fabricate steel into finished products are included.

United Steelworkers last November demanded pay increases of 18½ cents, union shop and other contract concessions. Negotiations deadlocked. So did federal mediation. Both sides agreed to submit their dispute to the federal wage stabilization board.

WSB recommended a pay increase of 17½ cents. The union accepted, industry balked. Negotiations on the proposals in New York deadlocked after the industry offered—and the union rejected—a wage increase it said amounted to a package 16 cents.

More than 100,000 workers already are idle as plants shut down orderly. Allied industries are shutting back also which means more unemployment.

The government froze all shipments of civilian steel as a precautionary measure to conserve steel for national defense. And it is still making a last-ditch try to stave off a midnight strike.

Washington, April 8—(P)—The Commerce Department today was reported ready to operate the strike-threatened steel industry in the event President Truman decides on government seizure.

Officials gave this word to reporters today on the heels of public disclosure that the president has asked Secretary of Commerce Sawyer to interrupt a mid-western tour and return here immediately.

These officials said seizure orders have been drafted for Truman's signature.

Hopes in official quarters apparently had been all but abandoned for a settlement in the industry's wage dispute with the CIO Steelworkers Union.

However, there apparently had been no definite decision to seize the industry.

A spokesman for the Office of Defense Mobilization said Truman wanted Sawyer back to advise on government policy in the steel crisis. The spokesman described seizure as only one of several "possibilities."

Justice Department attorneys and other government lawyers have said privately in fact that they had some doubts about the legality of seizure.

New York, April 8—(P)—The government's wage chief said today he had "some confidence" that (Turn to Page Nine)

Reorganization Plan Outlined as Four Phalanx Members Are Called Into Army

In view of the fact that four Phalanx members will leave for the Army on April 22, bringing the total given to the Armed Forces to 10, Jack Updegraff, primus, presented a plan of reorganization at the club meeting held in the YMCA last night.

To carry out the purpose of having a smooth functioning organization, Updegraff appointed the following standing committees: program—Charles VerMilyea, chairman, Frank Carr and John Wood; membership—Ralph Hoffman, chairman, William Gathers, Blaine Jones, and Don Swanson; service—Dave Harrington, chairman, Allen Anderson; finance—John Wood, chairman, Warner Geisler, Dave Harrington; social—Francis Masterson, chairman, VerMilyea, Hoffman, Jack Brennan; devotional—Updegraff, chairman, Brennan; publicity—Allen Anderson, chairman.

After the appointments were made, the primus explained the duties of each committee and reminded the chairmen they are responsible for weekly reports.

Mr. VerMilyea, chairman, reported the bake sale held last Friday, evening was a sell-out, and expressed his thanks to the many contributors.

In further discussion, the group set Thursday evening, April 17, as the date for a dinner-party for the four members, John Kylaner, Deane Swanson, Arnold Swanson and Don Erickson, who are leaving. Because six members, all of whom are stationed overseas, are now in the Air Force and four more are going, it was decided a monthly newsletter again be printed by the club for those serving.

Measures, Updegraff, Masterson, VerMilyea, and Anderson are to be in charge.

Following the business session, Anderson gave a report of the State Young Adult Council meeting he attended in Harrisburg Saturday and outlined a plan for the local fraternity to organize a Northwest District YAC. He stated there are now young adult clubs, including Phalanx and Gradale, a sister club, in Warren, Corry, Franklin, Conneaut Lake and Titusville. Plans are now being (Turn to Page Nine)

'Parade of Bands' May 20th to Boost Hospital T.V. Fund

If plans of State Hospital employees who are members of the A. F. of L. Union, Local 469, are successful, May 20th will bring a substantial boost to the fund for the purchase of television sets for the hospital's patients. On that date, the union members have arranged for a parade of bands, with Kane, Bradford and Warren musicians who are members of the District Musicians' Union, Local 54, donating their services free of charge.

Hospital employees and their guests will be provided with an evening of continuous dancing, with a total of some ten orchestras rotating constantly to provide uninterrupted music. No charge will be made for admission to the May 20th program; contributions made by guests will be turned over in entirety to the fund for patients' recreation. As has been announced earlier, the hospital's goal is the purchase of some 25 television sets, which will cover approximately half of the wards in the huge institution. The hospital workers believe that the "Parade of Bands" program will be well supported and will provide a most pleasurable method of contributing to a most worthwhile cause. Further details of the proposed dance will be announced later, according to Committee Chairmen Lloyd Van Tassel and Jack Henry.

American Cancer Society statistics show that every day 600 Americans die of cancer.

Annual Banquet Is Held by Civic Club

The annual banquet of the North Warren Civic Club held last evening in the community building was thoroughly enjoyed by 125 enthusiastic members.

Following a delicious Swiss steak dinner prepared by the Lewis Caterers, and served by members of the Willing Workers Class of the North Warren Presbyterian church, Fred Plummer, research engineer of the Hammond Iron Works, delivered an interesting, illustrated talk on a trip he made to Japan some months ago. A hundred beautiful slides shown in connection with the narration provided a most instructive and entertaining program for the guests in attendance.

Jim Cruickshank, president, was in charge of the meeting and introduced the speaker.

TO PROTEST PENELEC HIKE

Erie city lawyers Friday were ordered to file a formal complaint over the 7.8 per cent rate hike sought by the Pennsylvania Electric Co. Filing of the protest was directed by council after the CIO's Erie Industrial Union Council asked the municipality for a complete study of rate increases sought by Penelec and the Erie Coach Co. The Coach Co. recently hinted that it may apply for higher rates in 1952, but no petition has been filed with the Pennsylvania Public Utilities Commission. It was pointed out by city solicitors, Assistant Solicitor Maurice Coughlin said the complaint to PUC over the Penelec rates "places the burden on the company to justify allegations for the rate hike." Coughlin added that without a complaint from the municipality, the higher rates might have been put into effect "routinely" sometime in May. Nearly $200,000 a year is spent by the city for power and lighting purposes, with the chief item being about $140,000 for street lights, city officials said.

Wear your new Easter outfit
to do your wash!

of course you wouldn't...but you could with an automatic electric laundry

That's how clean and easy washing can be with an automatic electric washer and dryer. No heavy wet clothes to lift or carry, no at-the-mercy-of-the-weather clothes lines to break or blow down, no more rough, red washday hands. Your automatic laundry does all the work at the flick of a switch.

It's as simple as this! Put up to 9 pounds of dry clothes in your automatic electric washer, set a dial and your clothes are gently agitated in thick suds until every last vestige of grease and grime is loosened and ready for the first strong rinse to float away. Successive spray rinses leave your wash white and bright. Now your electric washer automatically spin-dries your clothes ready for your automatic electric dryer. Here they are tumbled in a current of warm clean air until they are wrinkle-free and bone dry, or if you like, just right for ironing.

That's how easy washing is with an automatic electric laundry. But you have to see it to believe it so visit your electric appliance dealer for a demonstration.

A BOY AT CALVARY

By Jay Heavilin and Walt Scott

Jesus staggered under His crushing load. The soldiers muttered among themselves for it appeared that He would never make it up the hill to Calvary, also known as Golgotha, or "place of the skull."

"You!" snarled a Roman, seizing Sokron by the arm. "Help Him!" Sokron feigned obedience, then lunged to freedom. It was a trick he had often practiced during games of "Romans and Rebels" in Massada.

A stout pilgrim, Simon of Cyrene, was forced to help with the cross. Sokron followed at a discreet distance, among a group of weeping women. One Veronica, ran to Jesus and wiped the blood and dust from His bruised face with her veil, on which He left the print of His countenance.

Don't We Get Into the Queerest Predicaments?

Here And There

The last of three drawings in the annual Bugs Bunny coloring contest appears elsewhere in this issue. This is being staged by the Times-Mirror in cooperation with the Library theater, by popular demand. Last year the contest was a whopping success, when hundreds of entries were received. As a matter of fact the New York World-Telegram & Sun received 25,284 entries in the same project. All across the nation interest was equally strong—with the Times-Mirror being mentioned along with papers in Birmingham, Ala.; Rock Island, Ill.; Charleston, W. Va.; Albany, N. Y.; Camden, N. J.; Alamosa, Colo.; Indianapolis, Ind.; Salinas, Calif.; Midland, Texas; Cambridge, O.; just to mention a few of the spots where NEA Service, Inc., reported the contest broke all records. The contest gave juvenile readers a chance to have coloring fun and an opportunity to win tickets to the Library theater. And this year a missing line jingle was added to make the contest just a little more interesting. Our advice to those planning to enter is to get sketches in as early as possible. Later in the week, at their convenience, the judges will go over the entries and decide which ten will receive two tickets each.

Chapter 3, "Tidoute Jail Saga": An unexpected development in the "continued story" about the Tidoute Jail occurred Monday when we received a long distance call from Harrisburg. During the conversation we were told that it was May 2, 1951, that Tidoute borough officials were advised that their lockup was "in terrible shape." This followed a visit from one of the Bureau inspectors. Four recommendations were included in the warning that the jail would either have to be put in shape or closed. These stipulations included other things that bunks had to be supplied, the walls painted, and an exit opened. There are only about four inspectors to visit 420 lockups, 60 county prisons and state-owned institutions in Pennsylvania, it was explained, and it was not possible to send a man back to Tidoute to investigate repairs made in the calaboose. Another tour will be made this year and it is expected that the report about Tidoute will be more satisfactory. We called attention to reports we had read about the stir created when the list about Tidoute included the Meadville jail, and the same explanation was forthcoming. It seems that the crux of the situation is that some municipalities were advised almost a year ago to make certain alterations and improvements in their lockups, and in some instances, like Tidoute and Meadville, the orders seem to have been carried out, but there was no follow up inspection, and the ratings will not be corrected until Bureau representatives make their tour this year. In the meantime Tidoute officials invite any "doubters" to pay their houseguest a visit and learn for themselves!

Councilman Wayne Painter tells about an interesting experience he had on a trip to Buffalo March 15, when he was stopped by a traffic officer some place this side of the Bison City, not for speeding, not for being on the wrong side of the center line, not for driving too fast for conditions, but for operating his vehicle with but one 1952 Pennsylvania license plate—the first day they were legal in the state. The patrol officer "begged most humble pardon" when the situation was explained, and his demeanor indicated that probably he had been wised up on the change from two to one plates in the Keystone State—but forgot!

This is that: Constable Fox, of the seventh ward, is a patient in the hospital, but his friends will be interested to learn that he does not anticipate being there (Turn to Page Seven)

Lack of Wealth Poses Problem For Asia's Income Tax Agents

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Lavish entertainment given Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt by the wealthy Nizam of Hyderabad stirred up some eyebrows among American taxpayers. Principal question raised was how much these hereditary Indian princes are being taxed today, along with the U. S. taxpayers who are contributing military and economic aid to the whole area from Turkey to Indonesia.

While tax collectors have been cursed up and down these ancient lands ever since Bible times and before, it is only in recent years that anything like a modern tax system has begun to make its appearance in Asia. Many of the young governments, born since the war, are still experimenting with their tax laws.

In Saudi Arabia and some of the other Mohammedan countries, the income tax is considered contrary to Moslem law, for the natives. They pay only religious tithes, called zakats. Foreign corporations like the Arabian-American oil company pay income taxes, however. The oil company pays its royalties and whatever is left over, up to 50 per cent of its income, is called income tax.

One of the great handicaps to putting modern income tax systems into effect in Asia is that there is little wealth to tax. Per capita income is $40 a year in Saudi Arabia and Yemen. In India it is $37. It is $35 in Iraq, $38 in Jordan, $108 in Syria, $121 in Egypt and $125 in Lebanon. In only one country, Israel, does the average income rise above these levels. There it is $720 a year—just half of last year's U. S. per capita income of $1440.

ISRAEL has a really tough tax system. On the first 300 Israeli pounds of income—roughly $150—the tax is 15 per cent. Tax credits are given for dependents up to $50. The credit for a wife is 30 pounds—$15.

Rates go up gradually to 80 per cent on all net income over 7000 pounds—$3500. These tax rates are now considered so oppressive that they are being revised on lowest and highest incomes. But luxury tax rates are being raised from 35 to 75 per cent on some items.

India's tax problem is perhaps the most complicated of the whole area. Individual income taxes for 1949, the last year for which full data are available, were paid by only 382,000 out of India's 350 million people.

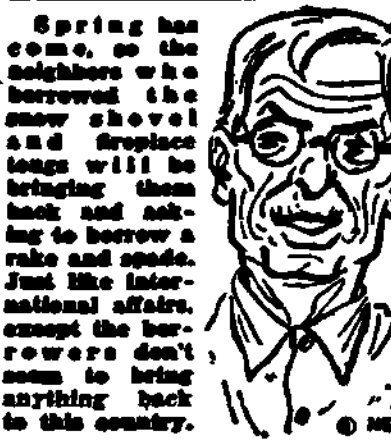

Two principal reasons are given. First is that most of the $49,818,000 people had no taxable income. The other reason is that all agricultural income is exempt from income taxes.

THE young Indian government's land reform program is still largely on paper. As a result, the old "zamindari" system of private tax collectors for absentee landlords is still in effect in many areas, though supposedly outlawed. These zamindars get their pay out of what they can squeeze from tenant farmers who are often left with only a fourth of what they earn.

The central government collects no land taxes. They are reserved to state and local governments, as in America. On the other hand, no Indian states have income taxes. Instead, the central government makes payments to local governments from income and other taxes it collects.

Indian income tax rates are higher than in America. They begin at 1.7 per cent on earned income of $700. They are 20 per cent on earned income of $6000, rising gradually to 48 per cent on $20,000, to 78 per cent on $100,000 and a maximum of 92 per cent on income of $200,000.

HE CARRIED CHRIST'S CROSS

Mark 15:21

When Jesus came to the wall of Jerusalem, bearing His cross to Golgotha, He was too weakened by the burden of the thing and the mistreatment which had been accorded Him to go any farther. Even the hardened Roman soldiers realized this so they forced a passing man, on his way into the city, to carry the cross.

Simon was his name and he had been born in the North African area of Syria. There was a large colony of Jews there and so many came back to Jerusalem that it was possible for them to have their own synagogue. People from Cyrene were listed among the inhabitants of Jerusalem who marveled at hearing the Christians speak in the tongue of their native lands on the occasion of Pentecost. It seems doubtful that Simon was a follower of Jesus when he was forced to bear the cross. He was not among the crowd which was following our Lord to the place of crucifixion, for it says that he was coming into the city as the crowd was leaving the town for the open area beyond the wall to the north of Jerusalem. He just happened to be the first man to come along when Christ collapsed under the cross.

So it occurred that Simon carried the cross of Christ. I dare say that he did not do so gladly for the cross would have been heavy and, furthermore, it was a mark of shame, an instrument of execution usually borne by the condemned criminal for whom it was intended. But Simon had to shoulder the beams and drag them to Golgotha.

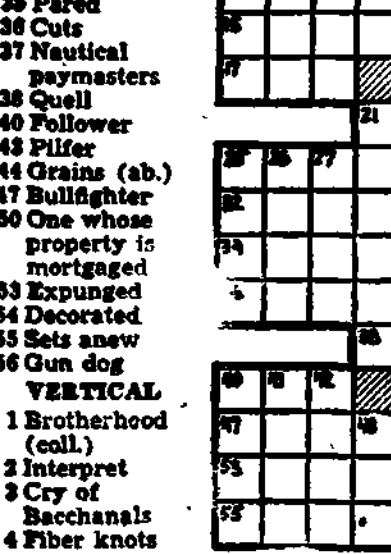

Something certainly happened to him as he did so. Perhaps for the first time he wondered about this Jesus. When the place of execution was reached he no doubt sat down after the exertion to watch the crucifixion while he rested. He was impressed, like the Roman centurion in charge of the soldiers, with the majestic dignity of Christ. In his mind and soul he realized that this man was no criminal and as he returned to his home he could not forget Jesus whose cross he had carried. I wonder if anything would have happened in Simon's soul if he had not done something for Christ—carried His cross?

But something did happen! Two sons of Simon are mentioned by Mark in such a way that we must assume that they were Christians, and well known ones at that. Most likely they were brought to faith by their father. We read of Cyrenian disciples going to Antioch to teach about Christ when persecutions after the death of Stephen drove them from Jerusalem. Could it be that Simon shared his faith with his fellow countrymen? Indeed, something always happens in our souls when we carry a burden for our Lord—and nothing much can happen in them, by way of real faith, until we do carry the cross of service for Him.

SENTIMENT SWINGS TO KINZUA DAM

Creek follow the flood crests in and due to the Allegheny River at Warren by approximately 24 hours, and that flooding along the banks of Conewango Creek in Warren results primarily from backwater from the Allegheny River.

As regards the millrace, the report stated: "Local interests have suggested that the millrace from the dam above Pennsylvania avenue to the Allegheny River be developed as an auxiliary channel, by clearing it of obstruction and enlarging it where practicable. Such an improvement would not be sufficiently effective to warrant the expense. The possibilities of effective improvement are limited in relation to bordering developments, and bridge and building openings."

Pittsburghers claim that if the Kinzua dam is necessary to Pittsburgh's protection, it is not too soon for public officials and civic organizations to start their campaign for this added flood protection, and that is just what they propose to do.

That the possible cost of building the Kinzua dam is small compared to possible losses due to floods is realized when one remembers that the damage from Warren down the river to and including Pittsburgh amounted to several hundred millions of dollars in 1936 alone.

Construction of the Conemaugh dam, to be finished this year with a four million dollar appropriation, almost doubles Pittsburgh's flood protection. It was a long job. The engineers tried for years to get work started on the dam. For a time, the state government held up the job by refusing approval. Then World War II suspended such work.

The Conemaugh dam was started with an appropriation from the first post-war flood control bill. The appropriation just barely got by Congress and then only because the public-spirited citizens of Pittsburgh demanded action to protect their city. That was six years ago, and now they are ready to again take up the battle and see that full protection is afforded by construction of the Kinzua dam. Half a dozen dams, including Conemaugh, now protect the city.

The cost of constructing the last link, the Kinzua dam, will be small compared to the benefits it will provide for Warren and Pittsburgh and all the cities along the Allegheny.

Better Grasslands Grown From Adapted Varieties

"Good seed, ample fertilizer of the right kind, proper inoculation, intelligent use of fungicides and insecticides, weed eradication all increase the farmer's return from his land, but if good seed of the proper kind is not used in the beginning, all the others become ineffective and the money spent for them is either wholly wasted or gives much smaller returns.

The better yields and greater profits obtained from improved varieties of corn, wheat, cotton, oats, flax and other annual farm crops have been recognized by good farmers for many years but even with these crops greater credit for increased yields has often been given incorrectly to something other than good seed of the right variety.

With pasture and meadow crops, the use of improved varieties has been held back—first, by the slow progress in a breeding program—second, by the lack of improved varieties adapted to one's particular locality and conditions—third, by the lack of emphasis by extension agencies and others to the specific increased returns from such varieties—and fourth, by the failure of the farmer to recognize the differences between common and improved strains and to utilize the means at our disposal to measure those differences.

With most annual farm crops other than pasture and meadow crops the yield for the season and the comparative quality of the products are the two direct measures of relative values. With most grasses and legumes we have the added factors of winter hardiness, relative yield over a period of years while the land is occupied, compatibility as to soil and season of maturity with other grasses and legumes, longevity, and versatility of use for hay, silage, pasture, cover crop, green manure, and soil retention. The complicated nature of all these factors and their intricate interrelationships make it difficult for the farmer to recognize and appraise their value for his particular use. He finds it more necessary to depend upon the results obtained from the carefully planned and conducted trials of agricultural experiment stations over a period of years. The comparative yields of a single crop may be relatively insignificant in determining the long range comparative values in a grassland program.

The increased cost of certified seed of Ranges or Butte alfalfa, spread over a number of years and covering many hay crops or years of pasture becomes a small item when apportioned to a single crop of hay or silage, or one season of use as pasture. A little more consideration of this comparison of costs and of returns from improved varieties of grasses and legumes, and its application to the farm cropping system, will pay the farmer big returns in the end. The list here includes a limited number of improved varieties of grasses and legumes the seed of which is now available.

Consult your seed dealer and county agent for advice as to best varieties for your locality. In doing so it is well to bear in mind that the limited supply of certified seed of most improved varieties makes it necessary still to depend upon high quality seed of unnamed strains for most of our forage seedings.

COUNTY FARM AGENT NEWS

For control, County Agent O. C. Tritt advises spraying infected ornamentals thoroughly this spring before the new growth starts. For small sprays, mix 4 tablespoons of superior miscible spray oil with one gallon of water. To make large amounts of spray material for power sprayers, add two gallons of superior miscible spray oil to 100 gallons of water. Apply oil sprays when the temperature is above freezing. Do not apply oil sprays more than once during the same season, and not at all on maples.

Spring seeded poultry pastures serve two purposes, points out County Agent O. C. Tritt. They provide highly nutritious feed and help to keep chickens and turkeys "out of the mud" in summer and fall. In some areas, seeding can occur the first of April when the ground is honeycombed from freezes and thaws. New spring seedings will stand light grazing during the late summer and fall but, with care, will make better pasture the second year. Occasional chipping helps keep down weed growth.

Ladino clover can be seeded in early April at the rate of one pound per acre. It can be seeded also with a winter grain crop after a light harrowing, or with a light seeding of oats or ryegrass (5 pounds per acre) as nurse crops. Ryegrass seeded by itself furnishes pasture about six weeks after seeding. Existing hay sods can also be used satisfactorily for poultry.

Orchard grass and Ladino clover are a good combination for turkey pastures. The turkeys really prefer the more palatable Ladino, but the orchard grass makes a tougher sod, more capable of surviving close grazing and tramping. Such a sod, now practically all orchard grass, has been used successfully on the Pennsylvania State College Experimental Farm for seven consecutive years and is more luxuriant than ever.

It was reported 19 members of this group attended a class on "The Book of Acts, taught by Mrs. Robert R. Young.

Tranter, program chairman, introduced her niece, Miss Gloria Hausman, New York City, who, with Miss Joan Ketterer as accompanist, sang "When I Have Sung My Songs", "In the Silence of the Night", "Spanish Love Song", and "The Lord's Prayer". Miss Hausman is a talented young vocalist and members felt very fortunate in having her as guest singer.

HAPPY OCCASION—Mr. and Mrs. Lyall Brown, lifelong residents of Youngsville and vicinity, were honored guests Sunday when many relatives and friends gathered to help them celebrate their golden wedding anniversary. The occasion was marked by open house held at the home of their granddaughter, Mrs. Robert Johnson, Brown Hill, from two until six o'clock. Host and hostesses were their only son, Robert E. Brown, Corry, with his wife, and the following grandchildren: Maurine Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson, Youngsville; Mr. and Mrs. Robert O. Brown, Erie. The honored ones, married April 3, 1902, at Matthews Run, were remembered with many beautiful gifts, money and greetings from a wide circle of relatives and friends.

Mrs. Brown received her guests in a dress of navy blue, with which she wore a corsage of yellow roses, and Mr. Brown had a yellow rose boutonniere. The golden color thought was featured, also, in decoration of the Johnson home, where gold and white streamers, yellow roses, and mixed flowers were attractively used. Mrs. Mead served the three-tier anniversary cake, also decorated in yellow and white, and other aides were Mrs. Edna Brown, Mrs. Ed Waid, Mrs. James Zeedler, and Mildred Withington. Guests were entertained with an original poem, written and read by Mrs. Carrie Mattison, sister-in-law of the couple.

The 250 guests in attendance included six members of the original wedding party; with callers from Conewango, Greenhurst, Machias, Falconer, Jamestown, Olean, Buffalo, Houghton, N. Y., Erie, Corry, Warren, Sugar Grove, Pittsford, Ruxford, Diamond and Youngsville.

She advanced from Class B into the top-ranking division this past season, also.

William Fuellhart; prizes, Mrs. Byron Knapp; junior golf, Mrs. Stewart Beckley; publicity, Mrs. Robert Walsh; advisor, Mrs. Sidney W. Blackman; May-June chairman, Mrs. Joseph DeFrees; July chairman, Mrs. David Crosssett; August-September chairman, Mrs. Robert Donaldson.

The opening golf dinner has been scheduled for May 14, with Mrs. Grace Siegfried in charge of arrangements. A nine-hole match has been planned for the players, with other contests being set up for non-golfers.

Ladies' Day at the club will be on Wednesday again this year, with play for the weekly matches concluding at 1:30 p. m. Contestants may compete on Tuesday afternoon, also, if they play with another woman golfer.

A number of out of town matches will be included in the regular schedule and the local clubwomen will be hostesses July 11 to the Women's Golf Association of Northwestern Pennsylvania.

If Your Husband Is Shy, Don't Do the Talking for Both of You

"I KNOW I talk a lot," a wife recently confided, "but Jim seems to freeze up when he gets in a crowd. He takes so little part in conversations, I get embarrassed and try to talk enough for both of us." That reaction may momentarily make Jim's wife feel more at ease. But it isn't going to help Jim's shyness any.

In fact, if she keeps it up, they'll turn into one of those not-too-rare couples where the wife takes the lead socially, does all the talking, and the husband becomes a nonentity in the eyes of their friends.

What else can the wife do besides try to make up for her husband's shyness by being the vivacious, talkative, dominant member of the marriage?

Well, she can begin a long, slow process of helping her husband overcome his shyness.

In doing this there are any number of tricks she can use.

QUOTE HUSBAND'S OPINIONS

She can start out by quoting his opinions part of the time instead of always voicing her own. This will give people the idea that though Jim doesn't talk a lot, he does his own thinking and that his wife, for one, respects his opinions and thinks them worth repeating.

Then she can often steer the conversation until it gets around to something her husband is vitally interested in. If he is interested enough in a subject, he will forget his shyness to speak his piece.

She can also encourage him to become expert at something, whether it is wood-working or gardening or any other pastime. That will not only give him confidence in himself, but will give him a chance to share his knowledge with others. Even the shyest person can usually talk interestingly on something he knows a great deal about.

Many a clever wife has helped a shy, socially inadequate husband gain self-confidence. And many a short-sighted wife has made an inarticulate man even more so by deciding that she has to do the talking for both of them.

FELLOWSHIP SERVICE

A business session opened the regular service of Junior Westminster Fellowship at First Presbyterian church Sunday evening, when members were reminded of the Easter sunrise service and it was announced there will be no evening session next Sunday. On the following Sunday, April 20, Ann Putnam and Mary Hughes will have the worship period.

All members joined in singing "The Day of Resurrection", followed by scripture read by Shirley Fowler; the collection taken by Ann Putnam; sentence prayers; a hymn, "Jesus Christ is Risen Today"; responsive reading, "The Risen Christ"; song, "The Strife Is Over, the Battle Done"; word review by Dr. R. S. Steen; and the concluding Fellowship Circle.

CENTRAL WCTU

Mrs. John Trauffer will be the leader for the meeting of the Central WCTU, to be held at 2:30 p. m. Thursday in First Methodist church. Mrs. Frank Collins, hostess, will have as her committee, Mrs. Ethel Harriger, Miss Edith Langdale and Miss Lulu Boyd. All members and friends are welcome.

Featured Selections For Conservatory Recital

Several featured numbers were enjoyed by the large audience at the weekly student recital at the Warren Conservatory of Music Saturday evening, and the following regular pupils were heard in piano solos:

Tommy Greenlund, Avonelle Burke, Elaine Tickner, Bobbie Tempest, Jimmy Moyer, Cynthia Johnson, Richard Smith, Valerie Gage, Muriel Crouse, Carol Ansell, Karen Wise, Terry Cruickshank, Dolly Felton, Ruth Ann Foreman, Kathleen Cowan, Barbara Baldensperger, Tommy Pierce, Nancy Tempest, Beverly Lindsey and Susan Lindsey.

Mrs. Norine Granquist played as a piano solo "Midnight on the Congo," a modern number from the composer Lecuona. This work is filled with peculiar chords and very complex rhythms, all of which were brought out with excellent effect by the player.

Richard Mullaht played a very clever "Ballet Dance" by Delibes, showing fine styling, phrasing and varying tone color.

The piano duo, Adelaide Swanson and Walter Whaley, played two groups; one of modern pieces, the second, a Bach Concerto in D major. A rare privilege to hear these two fine artists offer an expressive and beautiful technique that brings out the rich tonal beauty of their compositions. The audience showed its appreciation by an unusual round of applause.

Rounding out the special numbers, duets were played by Nancy Tempest and Tommy Pierce, Beverly and Susan Lindsey.

81ST ANNIVERSARY OF COUNTY RESIDENT

All Are Welcome At Missionary Convention

Those attending the missionary convention at the Christian and Missionary Alliance church have been impressed with the messages given by the Rev. Harold Secrist, missionary from Indo-China. This evening, he will show pictures of missionary work in Cambodia and tell how he has been miraculously delivered from Communist guerrilla ambushments as he went from place to place for his preaching. The meeting will be at 7:30 o'clock and all are welcome.

The convention will close Wednesday evening, with the Rev. Mahlon Stutz showing slides of Chile and speaking of work in that field.

Easter Bonnet for U. S. First Lady

POODLE SKIMMER . . . Sally Victor, New York millinery designer, puts finishing touches to the Easter hat she is sending to Mrs. Harry Truman. Shown here worn by a model, it is a gray blue straw skimmer trimmed with a garland of flowers ranging from light to deep blue and designed to complement the first lady's new short hairdo. It is the annual custom of the millinery industry to select an Easter hat for the first lady.

Heard on the Party Line

Through the partially overheard conversation of two persons who little realized they were dealing with a grievous blow, we have had called to our attention one of those embarrassing incidents which will pop up now and then in a newspaper office and result in the utter confusion of some red-faced member of the staff.

We have been going around for the past week offering, all unsolicited, our views on the perfectly marvelous play which Kay Martin, and her junior class gave at the high school to demonstrate to an overflow audience that "Men Are Like Street Cars". Much the same comment had appeared in the review of the play prepared for an earlier issue of the paper, but our enthusiasm in the performance, did not end with the published word.

Now comes the pay-off. In the future we will be the last persons in the world to ever deny the existence of what we have so amusingly referred to as The Gremlins, for no panting public ever perused that painstaking presentation of the play in our printed columns.

Disbelieving entirely the conversation at the nearby table, we nevertheless went straight to the office and to our files of back issues of the paper. The search was fruitless. The files yielded no printed review and negative results were obtained from a search for the copy that included practically every inch of the Times-Mirror plant. Finally, giving up in dismay, we are compelled to admit the 1952 junior class play must be entered upon the unsolved mysteries page of our private file.

Our new spring suit is sackcloth; our head is bowed; our gauntlet has been thrown to the entire Gremlin race; our space is all used up in this column, with only room to cast our vote for more productions such as "Men Are Like Street Cars".

my. Then he led his last club and ruffed in dummy. East over-ruffed and returned a trump, so South had to lose a spade trick eventually.

"North argues that South should have ruffed a spade in dummy first, having fewer spades than clubs. Then he could take the ace of diamonds, ruff a diamond and ruff the club in dummy. East could over-ruff, if he liked, but the slam would be safe.

"South claims that the third round of clubs was almost as safe as the third round of spades would have been. He chose the club attempt first because even when disaster struck he still had a chance to drop the jack of spades.

"Who is right?"
If South tries to get two ruffs in dummy, he must guess which black suit will go around three times. The difference between the two is so small (considering South's point about the jack of spades) that the choice could interest only a mathematician.

The best line of play seems to have been overlooked by everybody. South should win the first trick with the ace of hearts, enter dummy with the ace of spades, and return the eight of hearts from dummy.

The price increase would be based on the cost of steel in the first quarter of 1951. The price increase would be based on the cost of steel in the first quarter of 1951. The price increase would be based on the cost of steel in the first quarter of 1951.

Washington, March 31—The worst of the squeeze on the economy over the last few months has been the steel industry's price increase. The price increase would be based on the cost of steel in the first quarter of 1951. The price increase would be based on the cost of steel in the first quarter of 1951. The price increase would be based on the cost of steel in the first quarter of 1951.

Mr. Wilson stood through the hour-long meetings, which he called his "swan song" as he prepared to leave the industry. He had not changed his mind about the price increase. He had not changed his mind about the price increase. He had not changed his mind about the price increase.

At another point he was asked whether he had had any difficulty getting schedules from the Pentagon. He replied with a sweep of his hand. "You can see all the schedules," he said. "You can see all the schedules," he said. "You can see all the schedules," he said.

The cost of living is definitely on the downward trend. Maybe it's because of the steel industry's price increase. Maybe it's because of the steel industry's price increase. Maybe it's because of the steel industry's price increase.

Asked if he had any advice to give his successor, he said, "Yes, I would like to see him do a good job. I would like to see him do a good job. I would like to see him do a good job."

Girls' Club Sponsors Service For Holy Week

The High School Girls' Club of the YWCA held a special Holy Week service last evening in the YW gym, with Beaty Y-Teens and H-Y members as guests, and 125 persons enjoying the program planned by Joyce Sponsler, Elizabeth Eddy, June Odmak and Margie Carlson.

The service was opened with a welcome by Sally Reed and call to worship by Margie Carlson. The group then sang "The Old Rugged Cross", and followed by scripture and prayer given by Elizabeth Eddy. June Odmak read a poem, "Gethsemane" and Joyce Sponsler gave a short story. After the movie, "In His Name", had been shown, the program was concluded with a prayer and the hymn, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds".

An offering was taken for the Easter Seal Sale Fund for Crippled Children, with the sum of $8.08 received.

Lois Radspinner, Carole Weigel, Susie Robertson and Nancy Cannon were ushers for the service, which is an annual Holy Week feature of the club.

The ancient world made extensive use of a mixture of gold and silver which was called electrum.

They paid a visit to Congressman Leon H. Gavin at the House Office Building, who personally escorted them on a tour through the capitol building.

AT MARCONI CLUB

Conditions at the Marconi Outing club, during last weekend, were reminiscent of the days when great floor shows were brought from New York and Cleveland, and the club was crowded to the roof to see famous entertainers who came. Last weekend brought back the crowds, until space was at a premium, due to a good booking gesture by Manager Louie Critelli and some good Times-Mirror advertising. Louie brought in Ennis and Brown, a clever couple with much ability in providing humor, musical comedy skits, singing and dancing, direct from a good winter season in Florida. They won good applause from crowds which taxed the club's full capacity, Saturday and Sunday nights. Excellent dance music was provided by Ford Winner's orchestra, always a favorite here. Now the crowds are waiting to hear Louie's announcement for Easter weekend.

The Story of Easter, 2.

THE DATES

AP Newsfeatures

Early church experts long disputed what should be the proper date for Easter. Early celebrations were at varied times. The overwhelming majority of modern Christians accept the Easter date which varies between March 22 and April 25.

The time of Easter is a feast, a time of joy in memory of the Resurrection of Christ. Sects which fast during Lent then resume full meals.

Some groups find Easter sunrise specially significant, the rising sun reminding them of the Resurrection. Reviving plants also are reminders.

Conewango School Board Plans For No Tax Boost Despite Increase in Costs

At the monthly meeting of the Conewango Township School Board, held last night at the North Warren School, the Board announced that even with the heavily increased operating expenses for the Starbrick and North Warren schools, and the mandatory state increases of teachers' salaries, no boost would be made in school taxes for Conewango Township.

In making public this information, President Robert Crockett remarked, "This is one announcement that will meet with the full approval of all residents."

It was also announced that the pre-school clinic will be held prior to May 6; full public announcements relative to this clinic will be made later. The Board voted to continue the use of the Peterson Writing System for another three years under the control of writing specialists who visit the schools regularly. Insurance on the North Warren building was increased by $12,000 after a careful evaluation and examination had been made. The "old brick" Mead School will be advertised on a bid basis being presented to the Board at its next meeting on May 20. The budget for the school year ending July, 1953, was proposed, examined, and will be advertised according to law. Other business handled included routine reports, payment of outstanding bills, and the problem of consolidation. Sixth grade pupils will visit the "open house" program being held at Beaty School on May 6 on the invitation of Mr. Herbert Harris, Principal.

Passover Festival Will Be Observed

Festival of the Passover will be observed at Tephareth Israel synagogue in Conewango avenue with services at 8:30 Wednesday evening, and both Thursday and Friday mornings.

Passover marks the liberation of the ancient Hebrews from the slavery in Egypt under the Pharaohs more than 3000 years ago. Unleavened bread or "matzo" is eaten throughout the week of the Passover in order to recall the hurried flight of the Israelites from Egypt, when they did not have time to wait for their newly-baked bread to rise.

The Seder is the supper service at which the story of this ancient struggle for freedom is read. At this service, the youngest child asks what the Passover means and the father answers and explains the holiday in the words of the ancient sages. The door is opened and the prophet Elijah, who stands for freedom, is made welcome in the spirit. The service ends on the note of a rededication to freedom with the hope and the promise that men around the world will live as free men.

Retailers Discuss

At last night's meeting of the retailers' committee of the Chamber of Commerce, held in the Blue and White restaurant, it was decided to poll the members by mail in regard to the possibility of keeping Warren stores open the night of Thursday, July 17, instead of Friday, July 18. Commerce Dep't Reported
Ready in Event of Seizure

The steel wage dispute may be settled before a nationwide strike at midnight tonight.

It was the most hopeful sign in recent days in the darkening steel picture, that has already caused mills to begin cooling their furnaces in expectation of a shut-down.

Some 100,000 steelworkers already are idle as a result.

Nathan P. Feinsinger, chairman of the Wage Stabilization Board, told reporters as he emerged from a conference with industry leaders:

"I am making certain suggestions as a basis for possible settlement. I wouldn't have embarked on this course had I not felt some confidence that the parties will be receptive."

He said he had presented the suggestions to the industry, and now would present them in a separate conference of CIO United Steelworkers leaders. This is the first time, he said, he has offered direct suggestions for a settlement in five days of talks.

Reports that the industry has made a new wage offer could not be confirmed, either by union or industry sources. Company officials declined comment, and union leaders said they hadn't heard of such a move. Steelworkers President Philip Murray could not be reached immediately.

that the Almighty is the all-loving."

With that preface, the speaker went on to explain some of the proofs that "God so loved the world..." concluding with the words: "God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life. God commendeth His love toward us, in that while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us."

The lesson of love for the sufferer is that we should forgive everyone who has hurt us. Christ on the cross prayed that all who were hurting Him might be forgiven. That is the way of peace for us and of blessing for others."

The pastor of First church, Rev. Charles E. Kinney, presided at each of the noon-day services and C. T. Frichard, church organist, is in charge of the music. Services are from 12:20 to 12:50 p. m., and all in the community are cordially invited.

Tomorrow's speaker will be the Rev. Harold Lindquist, pastor of Youngville Evangelical United Brethren church; his topic, "The Cross - A Call to Righteousness."

Lions Club members attended today's service as their regular Holy Week luncheon program and, on Wednesday, the Kiwanis Club will be the special delegation.

Area Officers Will Attend School Rites

Judge Joseph L. Trumbley, of Elk and Cameron counties, will be the principal speaker at graduation ceremonies for students of police school to be held at the Kane Manor tomorrow evening, preceded by dinner. Burgess E. T. McDermott, of Kane, will be toastmaster for the affair.

Classes in basic and advanced police procedure were concluded last week after a 24 week session under the instruction of Chief of Police Harry Hill, of Ridgway, himself a graduate of the FBI school in Washington.

Patrolman John Imperial, of the Warren force, will receive a certificate of achievement in the advanced course, and Patrolman Willard Zerbe will get his certificate in the basic course.

Other officials from Warren county who will receive basic certificates include Charles Osgood, Rex Agnew, Edward Chappel and Julian Stewart, of Youngsville; Chester Mason, of Irvine; Earl Capron and Justice of the Peace George D. Haupt, of Sugar Grove.

Neil McKay, Corry police officer who was seriously injured about 10 days ago by an assailant who jumped on his back and administered him a bad beating, will be unable to attend the dinner.

Red Cross Raises
Relief Allocation

Allen M. Gibson, chairman of the 1952 Red Cross Fund campaign, told board members at the regular meeting in chapter headquarters yesterday afternoon that once again the people of Warren borough and county have come up with the gifts that assure both the annual quota of $22,625 and the special relief allocation of $1,500 which brought the year's total to $24,125.

Both Mr. Gibson and the headquarters secretary, Miss Irma Eiba, report contributions are still arriving in each mail and it is anticipated the final total will be considerably above the set quota.

A very favorable report was presented to the board by Eugene Brown, chairman of first aid instruction, showing the number of classes already organized in various county centers and plans under way for still other groups.

Fred L. Plummer, chairman of the chapter, was in charge of the meeting, with routine reports presented by both the secretary, Mrs. E. G. Hamilton, and the treasurer, Paul Harrington.

Additional business of the session included some discussion of plans for the annual meeting of the chapter in June.

The Army spokesman declined at present to disclose names of any of the men, or to discuss departure plans.

Most of the men are draftees who were called up for two-year service.

Gen. Strickler said "It is my fervent hope that the training received while members of this command may assist all of you in facing the problems of your future occupations."

Their names were not released and it was not disclosed when they would leave Germany.

Last night, Henry Mayer, New York attorney for the CIO strikers, said nationwide picketing would start tomorrow. He did not say why it was not scheduled yesterday or today.

LENTEN SERVICES

Daily Holy Week services continue each evening at 7:30 o'clock in First Lutheran church. The litany will be used this evening and Pastor E. K. Rogers will preach on the theme "The Humiliating Cross." Tomorrow evening, the service of public confession will be read in preparation for Thursday's communion service and the pastor will speak on "The Incomprehensible Cross."

IF AMERICA IS TO SURVIVE...

THIS NATION, UNDER
<sup>MUST</sup>
GOD, ~~SHALL~~ HAVE A NEW BIRTH OF FREEDOM!

- AND WE CAN HAVE A NEW BIRTH OF FREEDOM
ONLY WHEN WE INSIST THAT OUR GOVERNMENT
MUST HAVE A MORAL PURPOSE!

YOU HAVE a natural right — from God — to protect your Life, Liberty and Property. These are the three basic requirements for making your own living. These three gifts of God were given you with the responsibility for your own existence. And keeping any one of them is dependent on the other two. Isn't your LIBERTY to use the talents and faculties with which you were born an extension of your God-given INDIVIDUALITY? Isn't your PROPERTY an extension of the LIBERTY to use your God-given faculties?

If every individual has the right to protect his God-given Life, Liberty and Property, then a group of men have the right to organize and support a common force — a government — to protect these rights constantly.

Thus, a moral government must be formed on individual God-given rights, so —

THE PURPOSE OF OUR GOVERNMENT MUST BE —

"TO MAKE AND ENFORCE LAWS WHICH PROTECT EVERY INDIVIDUAL'S GOD-GIVEN LIFE, LIBERTY AND PROPERTY FROM THE INTERFERENCE OF ANY OTHER INDIVIDUAL OR GROUP — AND THESE LAWS MUST ALSO PROTECT THE PEOPLE FROM GOVERNMENT ITSELF."

All history proves that when a government does not have this purpose it becomes immoral.

Since an individual cannot lawfully use force against the Life, Liberty or Property of another individual, — then a moral government cannot lawfully be used to destroy the God-given Life, Liberty or Property of individuals or groups.

HOW CAN WE HAVE A NEW BIRTH OF FREEDOM
— WHILE EACH YEAR MORE LAWS ARE PASSED TO GIVE GOVERNMENT MORE CONTROL OVER YOUR LIFE IN PEACETIME.
— WHILE LAWS ARE PASSED TO TAKE AWAY MORE OF YOUR PROPERTY BY TAXES, TO PAY FOR HUGE NON-DEFENSE BUREAUCRACIES... TO PAY FOR THOUSANDS OF NON-DEFENSE GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES WHO HAVE GREATER AND GREATER CONTROL OVER YOUR LIFE, LIBERTY AND PROPERTY?

IN THE PEACE-TIME YEAR 1930 THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT HAD —
527,000 CIVILIAN EMPLOYEES

IN THE PEACE-TIME YEAR 1949 THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT HAD —
2,040,000 CIVILIAN EMPLOYEES

GUIDE TO FREEDOM

JUDGE ALL LAWS BY ASKING YOURSELF THIS QUESTION —

"DOES THIS LAW PROTECT EVERY INDIVIDUAL IN HIS GOD-GIVEN RIGHT TO LIFE, LIBERTY AND PROPERTY FROM THE INTERFERENCE OF ANY OTHER INDIVIDUAL OR FROM GOVERNMENT ITSELF?"

AMERICA BECAME GREAT BECAUSE PEOPLE HAD PRIDE IN BEING ABLE TO TAKE CARE OF THEMSELVES. WE MUST REGAIN THAT FAITH IN OURSELVES! WE CANNOT EXPECT THE GOVERNMENT TO PROVIDE FOR US IF AMERICA IS TO SURVIVE! TO REGAIN FAITH IN OURSELVES, WE MUST HAVE A NEW BIRTH OF FREEDOM.

WARREN HIGH SCHOOL TRACK SQUAD IN FINE SHAPE, GOOD SEASON IS EXPECTED

ITUSVILLE'S NEW TO OPEN HERE APRIL 25

Coach Loyal Briggs, Warren high track coach, has been given a hard time by the weather man last few days in trying to keep with his outdoor workouts. Not desiring to do any indoor work, Coach Briggs has had his crew out for several weeks, despite chilly winds, and has had them into fine physical condition for so early in the season. Although the thin clouds aren't really opened up because weather conditions, they have wed up well in the short trial.

Usually the boys have been doing for about eight laps under the track to build up their legs and when the skies are letting the sun out they will set for field work and trial s. With such an early start the boys will be set to start the season off with a bang, and have possibility of turning in a fine record for the season.

The initial meet will be at home Friday, April 25, with Titusville, a time winner over Warren last season. In the remainder of the schedule the locals play host to Oil City on April 29 and in May they will have a triangular meet with Bradford and Kane on the 3rd, 10th and 17th. The 13th, 10th, and Oil City the 13th, is followed by the district meet at Allegheny College in Meadville on May 16. Bradford goes to Warren on March 20th, and the season will be closed by the state meet at State College on the 24th.

In 1951 the Dragon thrushes had a season record of only two victories in dual meets against four teams, tied for second in a triangular contest, and placed sixth in the district.

But with the nucleus Coach Briggs has to work around this year, things look mighty bright. He has sophomores John Fisher, Bill Cramer, juniors Sam De-... Bob Harrington, Dick Hegy, Max Krespan, John Holcomb, 1 Rod Morley, and seniors Rod Collough, Ben Pastrick, Bud Perry, and Dean Vesling. All this and some shiny new prospects cap it up to plenty.

Pastrick, one of Warren High's all-around athletes in recent years, will be a big mainstay on each Briggs' lineup this season. As a junior, Pastrick set an all-time Warren High record of putting the shot put 44 feet 1 1/2 inches and hurling the discus for 121 feet and one and a half inches.

Another record-setter returning Rod Morley, a junior this year, finished the 1951 season undefeated in the 880-yard run event, did the run in 2:06.7 to beat Erhart's record of 2:09.6 set in 1926.

It is interesting to note that in the last two seasons Coach Hutchings' track and field men broke all-time records and tied an-... There has been a resurgence of interest in this field of sports around Warren, which will be even more so now that Jamestown has been added to the schedule. Official records show that the team with the Hilltoppers was informal one in 1939, the Green 1 Red 89-35 victors; but in their tangle in 1925, Warren spread thick with a 63-23 triumph and a four of the next five.

The date for the Blue and White invade Jamestown is the last of the season and both teams will be in top shape to give fans the traditional thrills a rivalry offers.

From an 'Irate Parent'

"Dear Mr. Fat Boy:

"We knew you wrote the 'challenge' to parents in last Friday's Times-Mirror because every now and then you drop a golden word which requires use of the family dictionary.

"Our young hopeful had been home from school a couple of days, with a cold, and was in an adjoining room when the good wife (who thinks I can't read) started to read me the editorial, word for word. It sank in, I'll admit, but not quite as deeply as when a hoarse voice from the next room sang out, 'That slambangs you right in the middle, doesn't it, Dad?'

"True, too true. The Hot Stove League is a fine organization. It has done a lot for our boys, and we sat by all last summer and let others do our job. We are ashamed and readily admit it.

"This letter is signed as it is because the writer is mad—at himself! May he be pardoned and allowed to join the ranks of helpful parents this year.

... "IRATE PARENT."

Parents, Interested Workers To Confer With Hot Stovers In Important Meeting Tonight

A large attendance of parents and interested workers is hoped for tonight when Hot Stove League leaders meet at the Trinity Memorial Parish House at 8 o'clock. The meeting will be headed by Charles Musante, re-elected president, and important steps will be taken toward starting registration of boys for the coming season.

There is no question of the amount of interest shown in Hot Stove by the some 700 boys active in the program. However, for it to be a success, an equal amount must be shown by the parents.

BARR, BENSON FACE BEST IN MAT TRY-OUTS

It is anticipated that nearly 75 of the best college and club wrestlers from seven states will be entered in the Tri-State Olympic Wrestling Tryouts at the Pitt Field House in Pittsburgh tomorrow and Thursday, including Homer Barr and Robert Benson of Warren.

Now head wrestling coach at Warren High School, Barr is a former eastern intercollegiate wrestling champ from Penn State and placed third in the 1948 National AAU Tournament, when he wrestled under Olympic rules for the first time. While Barr will be entered in the heavyweight division, Benson, a local product, will be in the 174.5-pound class.

The two matmen will leave here at 6:30 this evening for the tryouts that start at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. They will undoubtedly return home Friday.

For the last several days Barr has been running around Beatty track to build his wind, and states he feels in fine shape for the tryouts. Last night he traveled to Jamestown to work out with Forbes Brown, physical director at the "Y" and former eastern intercollegiate champ, but the practice was shortened when his opponent had his shoulder thrown out. Barr also received some fine practice in the Great Lakes Tournament held recently in Erie.

Benson was also entered in the Erie tourney and has been doing his working out at the local YMCA.

Wrestling in the unlimited weight class Barr will very likely meet Carl Abell, from Medina, O., a former National AAU champion in the Junior AAU tournament. Abell decided Barr 2-1.

The following grapplers include some who will compete under Olympic rules, for the right to go to the final Olympic Trials in Iowa City later this spring.

114.5 pounds—Hugh Peery, Pitt, NCAA champion; Manny Phakia, Cannonsburg, state interscholastic champion for three years; Robert Carlin, University of Indiana.

125.5 pounds—John George, Pitt; George Krivichik, Broadway YMCA, Cleveland, Ohio.

136.5 pounds—George Matthews, Phil Kozy, Tom Harclerode, and Phil Smith, Pitt; Larry Formicola, Penn State; Leo Tubridy, Pittsburgh, unattached.

147.5 pounds—Charley Uram, Bob Cook, and Don Huff, Pitt; Mike Rodriguez, Kiski; Earl Courtwright, Fifth Infantry Division.

160.5 pounds—Joe Selomon and David Davis, Pitt; Ernie Fischer and Bob Fischer, University of Maryland; Vincent Kelly, Baltimore YMCA.

174.5 pounds—Harven Kraus, Pitt; Jack Shanahan, University of Maryland.

191.5 pounds—Harold Wise, Pitt. Unlimited—Eldred Kraemer, unattached; Carl Abell, Medina, O., former National AAU champion; Dick Read, University of Illinois, unattached; William Kerslake, Broadway YMCA, Cleveland, O.

Bradford Has Sixty Entries in Tourney

The director of the Interstate Bowling tournament in Bradford, Arthur M. Dort, announced last night that he now has 60 entries from out of town teams for the tournament to start in Bradford May 3 and continue through May 18.

He announced that Class A and B teams can still enter. Class A entries show averages of 852 while Class B averages are 810. Entries will close April 19.

Mustering - Out Of Curt Simmons Due In New Jersey Base

New Brunswick, N. J., April 8.—(AP)—Sgt. Curt Simmons starts down the Army's mustering-out production line today with his interrupted baseball career waiting at the other end.

The 22-year-old southpaw ace will rejoin the Philadelphia Phillies as soon as he can complete his Army discharge and come to contract terms with Philadelphia owner Bob Carpenter.

Simmons flew back to the U. S. yesterday from Germany, where he had been serving with the 28th Infantry Division.

He stopped off at his home in Egypt, Pa., last night and gave a cautious appraisal of his playing condition.

"When you've laid off as long as I have," said Simmons a little grimly, "the old control ain't what it used to be."

"I won't really know how long it will take me to get in condition until I actually start to work. It's the legs you have to work on."

The young hurler appeared a little on the heavy side and admitted he tipped the scales at 190. He hastened to add that he "had filled out a lot and can carry 185 to 190 pounds without any trouble at all."

Just how long it will be before Simmons starts training for the coming National League grind wasn't clear. It could take three days to turn him back into a civilian—or he could be pushed through in 24 hours.

Through The Wind Tunnel

It was big steaks and all the trimmings, Saturday night, when Pete Fanartus dined his champions of the City League, the Texas Lunch team, at the Texas.

And the beautiful trophy is on display in the restaurant window.

With Ray Peebles and his baseball movies due at the Marconi Town club the night of Friday, April 25, the place should resemble a spring diamond. Lots of interest already.

Elsewhere on this page is good news for the fishermen regarding the number of trout placed in Warren county streams.

And now Allie will take over to tell you about cold, cold hearts, track doings, Pitt baseball, and Willie.

My how Miss "H" changed over the weekend. The only trouble is we couldn't find out the reason why. She spoke, rushed by, and we didn't even have a chance for a short interview.

We sure hate having to go back playing "Cold, Cold Heart". Better yet, maybe "Tell Me Why" would get us an answer sooner.

With track season just around the corner, many old timers can think back 25 years when Monte Scott was Coach Harry Hutchings' only returning letterman, to the 10 boys Coach Loyal Briggs has to work with this year.

But then if you had Monte, you didn't need anyone else. He still holds the 100-yard dash record for Warren High (Yes, he once did it in 10 seconds flat, con you believe it?) and along with Glenn Greet, Ray Stein, Al Gray, holds the 880 relay record. He previously held the shot put all-time mark of 40 feet and 11 inches until Ben Pastrick shattered it with a put of 44-5 last season.

We have learned that Chuck Reese will be the starting shortstop for the Pitt Panthers in their opening game of the season.

We still haven't got around to find out why the Beatty Girls Chorus dedicated the song, "I Love Little Willie", by Wilson, to Mr. Geisler during their concert last week, but we'll ask him first chance we get.

Among Warren spectators planning on attending the Tri-State Olympic Trials in Pittsburgh tomorrow and Thursday are Bill Hewitt, Erv Rader and Haddy Wright.

It has been announced that members of the Men's City Bowling League will hold their banquet Tuesday, April 22, in the K. of C. club rooms.

Next Monday night at 7 o'clock will be the time of the Warren Revolver League's annual party to be held at the Cornplanter Gun Club, Cobham Park Road.

Warren County and Allegheny National Forest Streams Are Well Stocked With New Trout

Information released by the Pennsylvania Fish Commission at Bellefonte reveals that with 80 miles stocked, Warren county leads the nine northwest counties in trout stocking in advance of the 1952 season. A total of $9,100 trout have been placed.

Venango county is a close second with 78 miles while Clarion is at the bottom of the list with only 13 miles. Mercer has 48 miles, Butler 47, Crawford 46, Erie 37, Forest 24 and Lawrence 23. The Allegheny National Forest has 99 miles of stocked trout streams.

Stocking of trout in Warren county was distributed as follows: Spring Creek, 3,000; Chapman Dam, 3,000; Brokenstraw, 2,800; Pine Creek, 3,700; Brokenstraw Creek, Lt., 4,800; Spring Creek, E. Bra., 2,300; Hickory Creek, West, 650; Caldwell Creek, 2,200; Caldwell Creek, W. Bra., 700; Tidoute Creek, 1,600; Ben Jorge Creek, 400; McGuire Run, 450; Perry McGee Run, 600; Lamb Run, 450; Rock Hollow Run, 600; Coffee Creek, 500; Phelps Creek, 460; Blue Eye Run, 700; Spring Creek, N. W. Bra., 250; and Wilson Run, 400.

Allegheny National Forest streams in Warren county have been stocked as follows: Farnsworth Creek, 2,400; Four Mile Creek, 1,080; Four Mile Run, 300; Brown's Creek, 700.

Marconi Club Will Hear Peebles, See Movies April 25th

At a meeting of the Marconi Club, Monday night, it was decided to bring Ray Peebles, general manager of the Jamestown Falcons, to the town club, Friday evening, April 25, to show baseball movies, including the 1951 world's series games, and to give a baseball talk.

Mr. Peebles' talk has been enjoyed by the Warren Rotary club, Warren Sports Boosters, and the Youngville Kiwanis club, and the Marconi members are looking forward to his visit. The hour is 7:30 p. m.

Following the baseball program, the regular Friday night fights will be seen by television.

SPORTS IN BRIEF
By The Associated Press
San Antonio, Tex.—Dick Wakefield, former Detroit bonus player, will be given a tryout with the New York Giants.
Washington, D. C.—Curt Simmons, Philadelphia Phillies' ace left-handed pitcher, arrived from Germany and will be discharged from the Army within a few days.
Providence, R. I.—Chet Nichols, Boston Braves' southpaw, was inducted into the Armed Forces.

Ham Supply Ample For Easter Menus

If you're planning on ham for your Easter menu, you can count on an ample supply to choose from this year, according to one of the nation's leading meat distributors. Heavy production of hogs in 1951 sent more pigs to market this spring than last year and Easter shoppers will find ham prices attractive, said T. A. Connors, head of the National Meat Department of A. & P. Food Stores.

Both for holiday feasting and year-round eating, Mr. Connors noted, three types of hams seem to rank as American favorites—the smoked ham, the fully-cooked ham and the boned and full-cooked canned ham.

On the basis of purchases in some 4,500 A. & P. stores, the fully-cooked ham appears to be the most popular version with consumers nowadays.

The big difference between the smoked ham and the fully-cooked variety, Connors explained, is entirely a question of the internal temperature required during the smoking process and the length of time it is held at this temperature.

Government regulations permit any ham in which the internal temperature has been raised to 139 degrees to be referred to as ready-to-eat. However, some in the industry have established standards which require a higher internal temperature for longer periods of time to insure that the ham is fully-cooked and, therefore, are permitted by the government to refer to such hams as "fully-cooked."

SUNDAY SCHOOL WEEK

All Pennsylvanians have been urged by Gov. John S. Fine to observe Sunday School week, April 14 to 20. "The purpose of the observance is to stimulate child religious education and to rebuild character into the youth of today," Fine says in a statement issued at Harrisburg.

Jaycees Map Plans For Concert Drive

Co-chairman for next week's continuation of the Jaycee Concert Series membership campaign were announced this morning by the music committee chairman, Charles Tranter.

A corps of 50 salesmen will be headed by Harry Logan, Jr., and Charles Webster, who are making plans for a kick-off dinner at 6:30 p. m. Monday at the YWCA activities building.

The membership committee, consisting of both Jaycees and citizen-workers, will receive instructions and materials for the drive at that time.

With 500 members already enrolled for next season, and 200 names placed on a waiting list, the Jaycees will attempt to enroll an additional 300 persons for 1952-53, in order that concerts may be presented on two successive evenings and all who desire will have opportunity of hearing the artists.

The drive chairmen emphasize, however, that this auxiliary membership campaign will last but one week and no season tickets will be sold after Saturday, April 19.

Murder is Forgetful

BY WILLIAM G. BOGART

Chapter 34

RELIEF was in the girl's manner as she swung around quickly to face him. "Johnny! You gave me an awful scare!"

He said, "I was scared myself when I saw you step on the porch. I thought someone might want to shoot me."

"How long have you been here?" Her eyes seemed cautious instead of frightened now.

"I just came in. I forced the lock."

Kay said, "I suppose the reason you are here is the result of finding mother last night. I mean, you had the idea she was coming here?"

"Not until you mentioned this place. I thought it was a natural hideaway for someone who wanted to work on a book."

"Have you found it?"

He tried to read her eyes, but they told him nothing. He shook his head. "I told you, I just got here ahead of you."

She drew the paper out of the machine. The words she had typed were an exact duplicate of three other lines appearing on the paper.

"This is one of the notes I showed you just after you arrived yesterday. We have two typewriters back at the house, but both of them have pica type. I knew that notes had not been written on them."

"No," he agreed. "This portable user, elite type. It's a different size." He picked up the note and carefully scrutinized the characters. "And the notes were written on this machine. You can see that. The 'e' and the 't' are slightly out of line in both pieces of copy."

Kay nodded. And she came to her feet, abruptly tense, looking at him out of steady green eyes.

"Yes," she said tightly, "but it's not what you think. Mother didn't write them. Someone else did. Someone who knew mother's typewriter was here! Someone who is afraid!"

"Of what?" He knew what she was going to say, of course. But he wanted to hear her say it. He was trying to detect anything unnatural about her voice.

Chapter 35

JOHNNY straightened up with the boxes in his hands. Kay had come up behind him. She showed no interest, for the moment, in his discovery. Instead she was looking at him out of eyes that were tensely direct.

"Johnny?"

He paused, the cigarette hanging limply in his mouth.

"Johnny, I've got to ask you. I've got to know what you're thinking..."

He saw her bite her lip. Then she blurted, "Do you think mother did it?"

Johnny Saxon walked out into the other room, set the two cardboard boxes on the typewriter table, pinched out the cigarette in a saucer that was near the typewriter.

"Kay," he said slowly, "yesterday you and I were almost shot while we were crossing the harbor. Either someone wanted to pick off one or the other of us—or both. Certainly not your mother. She was in her room at the time. Moe Martin can verify that."

"A person," said Kay grimly, "who fears what mother might tell when she regains her memory; who doesn't want anything revealed concerning the night of the accident."

FOR a moment, he said nothing, studying this girl, his eyes meeting her eyes, searching them. He had seen a lot of people in his day who were pretty clever at deception; people who had fooled more expert minds than his. Looking at pretty Kay Smith now, weighing every angle, he made his decision.

She was innocent. No matter how much she had hated her father for what he was, he knew that she had not killed him. It was because of this sudden decision, and which made him feel so much better because he had reached it—he found himself deeply moved by the clear thinking of this girl who was so much a woman—that he decided to take her into his confidence.

He said, "I can tell you this much. And in revealing it to you, I'm placing you closer to danger. If the murderer knows that we were both here this morning, then he or she is also going to realize that we're a step nearer to him."

Kay's green eyes were sharp. "What is it?"

"This. The night your father was killed, he was here at the gun club. He was here because his car was here. It might have been before or after he went out with your mother that night. Which means she possibly did or did not know who killed him, and will be able to tell us that fact when she regains normalcy."

"But who?" Kay repeated. "And how do you know these things?"

"At this moment," Johnny said thoughtfully, "I can't tell you who. Frankly, I don't know. Yet I can tell you how I know."

He explained about visiting the field alongside Route 25A, and of Ed, the garage man's, offer to drive him up here.

Kay interjected, "I was talking to Ralph Dunkirk on the phone this morning, Johnny. He said something about the mechanic picking it up. I guess Ralph knew about it."

day I was employed for the job, that he and your father were not getting along together. Something about business."

Unconsciously his hand went out and touched her shoulder. "I think," he said reassuringly, "I'll have an answer to the whole thing sooner than you think." He opened one of the boxes on the table.

The girl, curious, watched. The first box was half filled with clean sheets of white bond paper. He opened the other. He heard Kay catch her breath.

The second box was filled with typewritten manuscript.

"That's it!" Kay exclaimed. He nodded, picked up several top-most sheets, rifled through them. A word caught his eye. The word was "Bart." He put the sheets back in the box, held the box beneath his arm and said, "Yes, I think we've found it." He motioned toward the door. "Shall we go? It's too hot to read the script here. I'll take it up to the house."

Kay nodded. "Besides, you might be in danger here."

"I'm used to danger," Johnny smiled. Then his face was serious again. "But I don't want anyone to find you here. If it should be our murderer, they might think you know too much. That's why I'm worried."

Kay paused in the doorway. "Johnny, there's one thing. Why did you start Nancy drinking last night? You know what it does to her, don't you?"

"I do now, though when I offered her the first drink I thought she was a fee-totaller. How is she?"

Kay's face was somber. "She was still in her room this morning. I haven't seen her. She'll stay there and probably keep on drinking for awhile. Nancy's an introvert, Johnny."

"I found that out, too."

"Ed probably told him... Well, think back over the last month for a moment. There's been no rain. None at all. Everything has been almost baked to a crisp because of the drought. Isn't that right?"

"Yes, but I don't see..."

"Our friend Moe Martin found out for me that your father's Cadillac was washed and polished the very day he... died." Kay sat down, staring with interest at Johnny as he talked. "In your friend's garage yesterday, while I was alone for a moment, I took a look underneath the car. The underside of the fenders had been mud-spattered. And on every tire there was a dried, muddy band around the edge, as though all four tires might have passed through muddy ruts. Driving had removed some of it, of course, from the part of the tires that touched the road."

Kay said, "I guess no one remembered there hadn't been any rain..."

"She looked puzzled. 'But where would the mud come from, then?'"

"From right here at the bottom of the hill, where the lane crosses that rutted stretch beside the marsh."

"That's right! It's always wet there."

"So the car was here," Johnny went on. "And the thing is, why did your father come here? Whom did he meet?"

Do you think mother knows?" Johnny sighed, reached for a cigarette. "I wish I knew. There are several angles, several persons it could have been."

"And," the girl said without emotion, "people who despised father for... what he was."

"Yes, there could be numerous motives behind his death."

Talking, Johnny had walked back into the adjoining room. He stopped down in front of the book shelves again, shoving things aside. Removing a stack of old magazines, his pulse quickened as he uncovered two blue-colored cardboard boxes. About two and a half inches deep, each was large enough to hold a ream of standard typewriter-size paper.

"I think," Johnny exclaimed, "We've found it!"

He got up and walked around the room, stretching his legs. Again he read the note that Moe had left at the table between the two beds. It said:

I understand Grandpappa Smith wants to see us. Hannah, the cook, told me. But he's gone some place and I haven't been able to find him. I'll be back. Hannah says the old boy was steamed up about something.

Johnny wondered what was keeping Moe. He had not returned. He opened his door and stepped to the screened door that was at the end of this wing. He wished to God it would rain or do something. The air was breathless. He also wished he had a drink.

He turned as footsteps came down the hall. It was Kay. Her lovely face showed animation.

"Johnny," she said quickly, coming up to him, "I think it's happening. Mother seems to remember Michael. That's why he's been with her all day. He knows right again. They used to be constant pals."

"Does she know you yet?"

Kay tilted her head slightly, a questioning expression on her face. Her eyes were pale green in the light from the doorway. "She seems to. Almost. Oh, Johnny," she cried, "she will... she will remember!"

"What is she doing now? I'd like to see her."

"She's asleep right now. Those moments of complete exhaustion seem to come over her suddenly."

"Where's everyone else? Where's Nancy?"

Kay's eyes clouded. "Still staying in her room. I don't think I'll see her at all."

"I'm sorry about what happened last night," he said.

"You couldn't help it. You didn't know about Nancy."
